GNARNAYARRAHE WAITAIRIE

Gnarnayarrahe Waitairie has been performing throughout Australia and the world for 30 years. He has been seen acting in well known films such as Deadheart and Quigleys Return and has also appeared widely on stage in theatre performances. He hails from Roebourne, Western Australia and is an elder from the Indjibundji tribe. The songs, dances and tribal lore which he shares with audiences were taught to him by his grandfather in his youth. Gnarnayarrahe is a wonderful entertainer and has a natural ability to engage with audience members of all ages.

Gnarnayarrahe's recent performances for Multicultural Arts Victoria include: Victorian Government Expo at the Royal Melbourne Show, Melbourne Writers Festival at Artplay, ABC Music Deli at the Melbourne Recital Centre and Moomba Festival. He has also been booked for many workshops and performances in schools and at community events over the past four years.
